BEING ONSITE

SNACK & WASHROOM BREAKS:

We often provide time within the program for students to stop for a snack and to rehydrate. As we are in the forest during our programs, please encourage students to bring field trip friendly snacks. This includes food items that are easy to eat, do not require heating or utensils, and have minimal waste.

All participants are required to pack out any waste associated with their snacks. Compostable materials such as apple cores, banana or orange peels cannot be left in the forest as they attract wildlife into the educational areas of the forest.

WASHROOMS:

We are located in an ecologically sensitive area and do not have access to the city sewage system. We encourage all staff and visitors to use the well maintained outhouse located next the building.

There are two wheelchair accessible washrooms available onsite for those visitors requiring more sufficient facilities. These washrooms drain to a holding tank below the building that requires special waste removal and therefore we try to minimize unneeded usage.

ANIMAL ENCOUNTERS:

Mossom Creek provides an essential wildlife corridor for local wildlife. With any exploration in the wild, animal encounters during our program are possible. We suggest discussing trail safety with your class prior to arriving, please put emphasis on; sticking together as a group, remaining behind the leader to avoid accidental encounters, and ensuring we pack out what we pack in.

MOSSOM RULES

Many animals live here.

Mossom creek is a wildlife corridor, known families of bears and cougars use the creek and surrounding forest. As such, we need to stay safe and give space to animals and stay with the group.

Only eat on the porch.

To avoid attracting wildlife to the educational areas of the forest we only eat in the budling. All waste from our snacks needs to be taken home.

Stay on the trails.

To minimize our impact on the environment we ask students to stay on the trails. We stay out of the pond and creek and off the hillsides to help minimize erosion.

Stay together & stay safe.

To make sure everyone stays safe we explore the forest together

Qonly with our eyes.

Take nothing but memories, leave nothing but footprints. We ask that there is no picking, pulling, trampling or eating plants.

Make good choices.

We take care, and are kind to ourselves, to each other and our environment. We strive to be good stewards of the ecosystem we share.
